THE CHINA MAIL.

HONGKONG, MONDAY, AUGUST 26, 1878.

contains two announcements of considerable interest. One is the notification of the appointment and swearing in of Mr Hayllar as an unofficial member of the Legislative Council, which appointment is to hold good "as long as the Honourable J. M. Price shall hold the office of Acting Colonial Secretary." The intention of the Governor to make this appointment was reported some three months ago, and it seems a little singular that the installing of Mr Hayllar as a provisional member of the Council has been so long delayed. There was, we believe, no necessity for the delay, as under the rules and regulations of the colonial service His Excellency is empowered to make provisional appointments to any vecancy in our legislative body, and Mr Austin being absent from the Colony a vacancy must be held to exist on the Council, although as a matter of fact the Surveyor General represents there both himself and the Colonial Secretary, Doubtless Mr Hayllar did not receive his appointment earlier mainly because his services as a legislator would have been very little in request during the last three months, few or no meetings of the Council usually taking place during hot weather in June, July and August. His legal knowledge general experience in the Colony ought to render his services particularly valuable in the consideration of the various ordinances brought before the Council and there is every reason to believe that his appointment will be viewed with

The other announcement to which we refer is the notification that Mr F. S. Huffam, Deputy Registrar of the Supreme Per Dale, at 8 30 p.m., on Wednesday, Court, Surrogate of the Vice-Admiralty Court, Registrar of Joint Stock Companies and Official Assignee in Bank. ruptcy, has been interdicted from office by His Excellency the Governor. Fol. lowing this notification is another stating that a warrant was issued on the 17th instant for the apprehension of Mr Huffam on a charge of felony and that, he having absconded, a reward of $1000 will be paid to any person who shall give information that shall lead to his arrest and conviction. It is well known that Mr Huffam is in Macso. and the offering of the reward of $1000 pretty clearly demonstrates the correctness of our statement on Saturday that the Government here has applied to the Macao authorities for his rendition, and have received a refusal. It is very probable, however, that this refusal is merely a formal one, rendered necessary

sull or advisable on the part of the Macag

Colony and Macao or between the Government of Portugal and Great Britain. There is good reason to believe that the invitation to surrender Mr Huffam that has been sent by telegram to the Government at Lisbon will ultimately result in his being handed over to justice. The case of Mr Huffam is, we fear, not one to excite the sympathy either of the Macao Government or of the authorities of this Colony, It seems to us that felony by any person holding a permanent and well-paid official position, with its attendant pension, is a far graver offence than would be felony by some half-starved clerk or other struggling individual who has possibly been brought up in vice and in this part of the world will assuredly following is the programme:be best promoted by their Government exhibiting a readiness to hand over to justice offenders that have taken refuge within their territory. With the facilities for getting to Macao that are at present afforded, we are bound to believe foot on the soil of the Portuguese Peninsula would put an offender beyond the reach of English law, must offer at least March..... Jockie's far awa. some inducement for the commission of dishonest or criminal acts among the Portuguese as well as members of other nationalities in this Colony. And not only so, but the lack of an extradition. treaty between the two Colonies, supplemented by an unwillingness on the part of the Portuguese authorities to deliver up to British justice offenders against the laws of this Colony taking refuge at Macao, would be the cause of the infliction meaning and respectable Portuguese employed here, for so long as they had the opportunity of bidding defiance to our laws by a trip of a few hours across to Macao, they would not unnaturally be instance the Portuguese Government will promptly grant the request for extradition that has just been telegraphed to it.

J. HALL, Pipe Major. "THE GRAND DUCHESS" AT THE CITY HALL. Miss Elcia May's return to the Royal English Opera Company has undoubtedly put everything in proper working order and the unfortunate performance of last of a considerable hardship upon the well- Wednesday may now be regarded as a representation of "Hamlet" with the Hamlet left out. By their performance of Saturday night the Company have demonstrated that they are one of the best companies of the required to furnish large securities or be kind we can hope to see at this distance excluded from posts of trust. We con- from England. "The Grand Duchess of fidently anticipate, however, that in this Gerolstein" is not, we fancy, the liveliest or the most stirring of the tempting titbits offered by this promising company neither do we think that "The Grand Duchess" is the character in which, if we remember rightly, Miss May appears with greatest success. But the representation of this opera on Saturday night last gives the public ample justification to believe in the truth of our remark that the company will now fulfil all the expectations originally formed of them. Miss May, as the Grand Duchess, showed that she had gained confidence, and therefore greater ease on the stage, since her last appearance here; while in the love-scene with Fritz, and in the way she sustained the character throughout, she shop. This fact was offered as an exdisplayed a marked improvement in style and finish. Her voice is, of course, fuller and more pliable than it was, if-it be not sweeter; and while she inspired confidence in all who supported her, she carried with her the sympathy of the large audience which, spite of the repetition, assembled to welcome her return to this Colony. Vernon, as Fritz, had less responsibility on his shoulders than on the previous occasion, and, being therefore more at his ease, acted and sang with great effect in more than one part of his rôle. All the other parts were filled as on last occasion, with this difference that much more spirit and power were exhibited all round, especially by Miss Stanley (Wanda) and Mr Hageman (Baron Puck). During one of the intervals a most pleasing variation was introduced by appearance of Miss Agnes Draegar as violiniste. If this lady cannot play the part of prima donna on thirty-six hours' notice, she certainly can play the violin, and with some power and considerable taste. She was heartily encored; and we may add that the public appreciation of the entire entertainment was marked by a call, as the curtain

THE RAID ON THE GROG-SHOPS. Christian Koch, and several others, licensed grog-shop keepers, were summoned at the instance of the Superintendent of Police for selling bad liquor.

Mr Sharp, the Crown Solicitor, appeared. to watch the case ou behalf of the Crown, and Mr Wotton (of Mr Brereton's Office) appeared on behalf of Mesars Schellhass &

Co., who were also summoned. Mr Sharp, in opening the case, said the summonses were taken out under the 11th Section of Ordinance 9 of 1867, wherein it is provided that any person selling bad liquor should be liable, if a licensed dealer, to lose his license. The Government was determined to put down the traffic in bad spirits. It had been known for some time that a quantity of bad liquor was being sold in the Colony, and the Government had taken measures accordingly. The result of the analysis made by Mr Niedhardt of a quantity of liquor which had been purchased would be made known. A large quantity of liquor had been sold in the Colony by the publicans, and they, it appears, had purchased it from Chinese firms, who, in their turn, asserted they had purchased it from Messre Schellhass & Co. The case of the "City of Hamburg" which he proposed to take first, would guide them in a great measure. Sergeant Toomey would prove what had been done as to the purchase of the liquor at the various houses, and a bill would be produced shewing the liquors were bought by the defendant from the Chang Hing by the defendant, but it was no the defendant being a European and a man who has had a dea of experience in the liquor trade, while the price at which the liquor was purchased should have been sufficient to shew him that it was not good. An enormous amount of this poison had been sold in the Colony. Mr Sharp then left the case in the hands of Captain Deane, as he had to attend the Supreme Court, and begged His Worship to excuse him. Sergeant Toomey was then called. He said :- During the latter end of last April I received certain instructions, in consequence of which I engaged a man to go into the "City of Hamburg Tavern." The man I engaged is named Clarke. I gave him a five-dollar note, and sent him into the house, while I remained outside in the Queen's Road. When he came out he handed-me 4 bottles of spirits. He was absent about 5 minutes. I immediately took the bottles to my quarters and immediately labelled them; I wrote "City of Hamburg Tavern, brandy," with date and price. These bottles were bought on the 13th of May; and I placed them in the police store the next day. Two or three days later I handed the bottles to Mr Niedhardt. One of the bottles was labelled "Vieux Cognac," with a swan in the centre of the label.

Inspector Grey was next called, and said -I am Acting Unief Inspector of Police. On the 15th of this month I received instructions from Captain Deane, and went to the City of Hamburg Tavern, and asked the defendant (Koch) if he had any of the brandy labelled "Vieux Cognac," Bordeaux. He shewed me a bottle of it. I told him it was poisonous brandy, and he replied that he knew it was common brandy but was MR. R. L. BATTERBURY, M.B., writing to | not aware that it was deleterious. The charge against the Chang Hing shop was then proceeded with. Sixty-five dozen and 5 bottles of the same brandy had been found in this shop, and Inspector Cradock proved finding the brandy on the premises. It was then proposed by Mr Sharp to call Christian Koch, the defendant in the sea wall near the Kowloon Coal Sheds, and previous case, but His Worship said having just emerged from the water, I saw he thought it would be very irregular a large shark proceeding at a great rate to call a man as a witness in a case through the water as if in pursuit of prey which might affect a charge still pending the chase made for shallow water, which against himself. After some discussion | brought the shark within thirty feet of the Mr May said if Mr Sharp liked to conclude spot where I stood. He (Mr Sharp) did not think for a moment that defendant knew that the liquor in question was poisoned, but sailors pay a fair price for their liquors, and ought to get good, wholesome liquor for their money. The defendant must have known this was not good and whole-

Mr May then asked Mr Sharp if he did not think he could get on without Mr Koch as a witness in the second case. Mr Sharp said he could if His Worship wished it or thought it desirable. Mr May said that it was the Magistrate's duty to administer the law as it was laid down, and he (Mr May) could not see his way to deal with the case as it at prosent stood without subjecting the defendant to a very serious loss—the loss of his license and this would apply to all the other cases as well; taking all things into consideration he (Mr May) thought the case should stand over as at first arranged.

Mr Sharp said that perhaps it would be better to let the whole of the cases stand

Mr May acquiesed, and the case was ac cordingly remanded until Friday next, at

REGINA V. ANTOINE—SHOOTING AND WOUNDING ON BOARD SHIP.

The prisoner was indicted on a charge of shooting and wounding a seaman on board the British ship Arabia, on the 23rd July on the high seas. The Attorney General (the Hon. G. Phillippo) prosecuted, and Mr J. J. Francis appeared to watch the ase on behalf of the prisoner. The following gentlemen comprised the jury :- Messrs. Mallory, E. George, A. J. Hudson. J. P. da Costa, A. J. Gomes, W. G. Humphreys, R. Cottombhoy. The prisoner it appears fired at the man to prevent him using a knife on another member of the crew. There was a fight on board the ship, and the man who was shot had subsequently to be placed in irons, as he had threatened to kill four or five men on board "Mr-Moreno, who acted as interpreter, drew the attention of the Court to the fact that, although the Captain of the ship had spoken against Greek and Italian sailors, there was not one Italian on board the Arabia on the occasion in question. The jury found the prisoner not guilty.

The prisoners who had been found guilty at previous sittings of the Court were then brought up for sentence.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the "CHINA MAIL."

Sir,-Your correspondent "C. W." appears to be sceptical as to a living shark being found in the harbour. I know nothing of the particular fish in question, but I may mention that on one Summer morning four years ago, while standing upon the broken Yours truly,

To the Editor of the "CHINA MAIL." Hongkong, 26th Aug., 1878. Sir,—The following remarks on the platform of Socialism and Communism may be of interest to your readers. The monopolists of California are pushing their work to the extreme, and the working-men are going very fast from Socialism Into Com-

Socialism means: "Everyone according to his works."

Communism means : " Everyone according to his wants."

The first is the representative of human exertions and co-operations towards dignity; The second is the representative of apathy, demoralization, duplicity and de-

Socialism means that every man should enjoy the first worth of his own labor, and advocates co-operation as a means of developing and increasing its products.

Communism means that every man should share in the fruits procured by the labor of all, according to his wants, and not according to his rights. Consequently Socialism is the programme of the International practical Working men's Association, and Communism is the programme of demagogic good-for-nothing Theorists.

Socialism means the co-operation of all the producing elements towards the development of physical, intellectual, and moral faculties, and that everyone should enjoy the results according to services performed by either of those productive faculties. Communism means the total denial of those productive rights, and acknowledges only the rights of enjoyment and consumption according to the wants. The two systems are therefore antagonis-

Society is so organized, that capital is an acquired fact and constitutes one class, and that labor is another fact, and constitutes another class, each antagonistic to the otherthe last is the producer, and the first the enjoyer; one is the slave, and the other the

In the nineteenth century, Justice acknowledges no master, no slave, but men equal according to their physical, intellectual and moral worth.

We know perfectly well that riches cannot be obtained except by the monopoly | 1868. and spoliation of others' rights. "If the actual masters would pay to their slaves, the full worth of their products, of course, no more masters, no more slaves, no more millionaires, no more paupers could exist : everyone would enjoy according to his own works"-this is the human preservative system of socialism.

Capital is the result of former labor, which right has been conferred and consecrated by abusive laws; that we know. The past does not belong to us, but the future does, and it is our duty to prevent that such a spoliation of human rights should exist in the avenir (henceforth). Now that powerful and scandalous wealth exists, so does powerless but honorable poverty exist on earth. Each one's rights must be proclaimed. The reign of speculation and monopoly is over. Every one is to speculate and monopolize his only labor and individualism to the benefit of social rights and welfare.

Capital having been produced by former labor, must co-operate to produce and regenerate future labor, by granting to former and future labor their rights according to | Credits. services performed by each.

This is the Idea of Socialism, which communism is to appropriate, of the future labor, what has been produced by former labor and to deprive it of its rights-to divide all the wealth accumulated centuries between the Theorists of the 19th Century, and leave the future to take care of itself-No! Human reason and Justice cannot comply with such divagative utopias. The true laboring man cannot be a friend of spoilation, while he is fighting against it to obtain his rights-but he wishes no Let us give to Cosar what belonge to Casar, to the people what belongs to the NAGASAKI. (Rising Sun and Nagasaki Express.) Just before we went to press last week. a stabbing case, which promised to result. seriously if not fetally, occurred near the Sagaramatsu hatoba. It appears that two English sailors belonging to the Shannon had entertained the idea of upsetting a jinriksha which was occupied by an American man-of war's man from the Ashuslot. The latter in resenting this treatment unfortunately had recourse to his knife, with which he wounded both sailors, one of them so severely that the opinion was for a time current that he had died in consequence. Such we are glad to be able to say is not the case, and further that both men are progressing favourably. The American marine proceeded in the Ashuelot when she left on Wednesday, though we believe he is in irons, and will be delivered up to justice on his arrival at Yokohama.
